Friends:

I am writing in regards to some information on a Nancy Peggs. I know she was married to Robert Harry of Terra Haute and she passed away in the year of 1874. She was married in 1832 and she was from Wayne County Indiana. She had children James, George and Ann. Her husband was a Grand Master of Masons Maternity of Terra Haute. He also held the office of Justice of the Peace 4 yrs was a member of the City Council some 5 to 6 yrs. What I would like to know if you have any way of telling who her parents were. I am trying to find my Father's family origin and when he was about 4 to 6 his parents became separated and he lost track of his brothers and sisters. He has already passed away at the age of 79 but I still would like to see if I could find his people. The only way I can tell if Marie Pegg was his sister is to know her parents name. I know of no other way than what I have put down on this paper. I would like to have any perp material you might have or just anything if any. I would be more than glad to pay your fee for your trouble.

Thanks you
Sincerly
Mrs Loyita Pegg Duffy.

Dear Mrs. Duprey:

I have not been able to find any more information about Nancy Pegg Wharry than you have already written me. If you could tell me the exact date of her death, I could look up her obituary, but it is like looking for a needle in the haystack to try to find one when you know only the year in which she died.

I telephoned her granddaughter, Miss Mary Wharry, who lives here in town. She knows little about the Pegg family, has no family records, and is not particularly interested in family history. She said that her mother saw little of the Peggs, and she knew nothing about them. Her father was George, I believe.

There is an article in the Terre Haute Daily Union March 17, 1858, page 3, column 1, which is about Robert Wharry, but it was about his work. He molded the first piece of casting in Terre Haute.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth C. Ross
